

Title :

The relationship between social responsibility role of information technology in the branches of a credit institution Kowsar Isfahan province

Abstract :

This research with the good of study the role of information technology on social responsibility of Kowsar financial institute branches Descriptive study is a survey with operational essence done with national approaches. The statistical community is containing all of branches, employees and staff of Kowsar financial institute of Isfahan province, that it contains of 138 people, that because of the low number of members, we used all of the statistical. The research measurement tools, are social responsibility and information technology stand and questionnaire, that used after final validity and confirmation for measuring the validity questionnaire. It was calculated in the ingredient way and for the final appointment of that Alfa that its measure for all of the changeable was 0/9 for study of the assumptions the SPSS is used. The results of the research show that information technology has effects on all of the sides of social responsibility, ie economy responsibility, legal, moral, philanthropy.

Keywords :

Information Technology, Social Responsibility, Legal Responsibility, Economic Responsibility, Moral Responsibility, Philanthropic Responsibility